1. This morning [redacted] one of the earlier JOT's, called me to say that he was taking off for a second tour--this time in [redacted] and to say au revoir. Only a short time ago he returned from duty in [redacted] where, it is reported, he did an outstanding job. You may remember that while he was in the Army, before coming to CIA, he also had some valuable intelligence experience.

2. Even though he will not be home for a couple of years, I suggest that he might be a very useful instructor at [redacted]. He seems to retain a great deal of interest in the JOT Program and in the Office of Training. If this is so, it might not be too difficult to persuade him to attempt to repay us for our interest in him.
